Please Note The Following FACTS:

1. There is no foundation evidence that cannabis has ever met the criteria for a Schedule 1 substance warranting Class B penalties, as currently legislated.
2. The scheduling is based on ideological, racist and political motivations.
3. Cannabis legislation is motivated and sponsored by vested corporate interests and overseas' influences upon the state.
4. The Cardholder possesses cannabis as their personal consumption is essential to maintain their health and wellbeing, whilst intending no offence nor harm against others.
5. The Cardholder lacks, nor has caused:
  - i) Mens Rea - criminal intent
  - ii) Actus Reus - action of causing harm
  - iii) Corpus Delicti - actual harm or injury
6. In 2009, The United Nations confirmed that offences involving the possession, purchase or cultivation of illicit drugs for personal use should not be criminalised as this would be a contradiction of their human rights to health.
